Kennaway Inn Request Drag River Channel Cleared

Dysart Municipal Council met on Monday morning last with all members present with the exception of Deputy Reeve Walter Hobden.

Mr. R. J. Curry was present at this meeting and speaking on behalf of the Rotary Club, he stated that it was the wish of the Club to turn over to the Municipality the Reid property on which is situated the residence which has been turned into a museum. Said property adjoins the parcel of land known as the Rotary Beach. We might explain that the Reid residence and property was purchased by the Rotary Club in order for it to qualify for grants it must become public property, hence the transfer to the municipality.

Despite the fact that men are hard to find, welfare in Dysart continues to skyrocket. One year ago our relief bill was $1,050.45 for the month of October; this year for the same period it was $1,409.77, and there is nothing that Council can do about it. Considerable discussion arose as to whether Council should adopt a suggestion of the Provincial Welfare Department and issue checks for relief instead of vouchers. Reeve Roy Brohm gave it as his opinion that in some cases the money would be expended elsewhere than on the necessities of life. Councillor James Cooper thought that while this could happen it would not be in too many cases, and that the time saved by the Clerk if the new arrangement was put into effect would be to the benefit of the municipality. However for the moment, things in this respect will remain as they are.

Councillor Harold Bannon raised the question as to what happened to the $5,000.00 allotted in the budget for widening that portion of the road leading up from the black bridge in the village of Haliburton. The councillor stated that a petition had been presented to Council by Mr. Homer Brown, signed by residents on the hill, but so far only four hundred dollars had been expended. Councillor Bannon stated that a contractor should be engaged to undertake the work.

Council passed a motion empowering the Reeve and Clerk to borrow $18,500.00 from the Bank of Montreal to complete the purchase of the Glebe Lot from St. George's Anglican Church. It was stated at the council meeting that owing to the new grants available under A.R.D.A. that this valuable piece of property will not actually cost the ratepayers of Dysart Et Al much more than

Council who have for some time been having a dispute with F. W. Cowling over the construction of a bridge on his subdivision at Drag Lake, have placed the matter in the hands of their Solicitor, David M. Bishop, to ascertain if it will be possible for them to have Mr. Cowling live up to the agreement he made in 1960 regarding same bridge.

A letter was read from the owners of the Kennaway Inn property, located at Outlet Bay. The letter stated that they expected to build four luxury homes and a modern resort hotel on the property, and requested Council to use their good offices to have the Department of Transport clear the channel from the Drag Lake Dam to Drag Lake, making this area of water suitable for the passage of boats and pleasure craft. Council have already acted on this matter.

The Ontario Water Resources Commission have asked Council what their wishes would be in respect to the amount per foot of frontage tax to be collected in connection with the new water and sewage system proposed for the village of Haliburton. Council did not feel that they were sufficiently informed to set a figure at this time.

By-Laws were passed approving the sale of the Dysart Telephone System to the Bell Telephone Company of Canada in accordance with the wishes of the subscribers of the Dysart System, who on October 26 voted almost unanimously for the sale. Other By-Laws passed will empower the Bell Telephone Co. to install lines overhead and underground, and also to operate pay stations at suitable points within the municipality.

Local Show Horse Sweeps Class At Royal Winter Fair

Centennial Lady held her own in Belgian competitions at the great Royal Winter Fair in Toronto which has just concluded. S. G. Nesbitt of Minden can rightly be proud of this fine animal raised on his farm, which captured the honor of Junior Champion and Reserve Grand Champion.

First prize in the Brood Mare Class was won by Silver Lady (mother of Centennial Lady). The horse Topsy captured first and third prize in the Yeld Mare Class.

The Nesbitt stables won first in the Four Horse Hitch Class, and a second in the Six Horse Hitch Class. Other second prizes were won in the following classes: Heavy Draft Team, Progeny of Dam, Line Class, and Get of Sire. Third prizes won were 3-year-old On Line and Light Draft Team.

Congratulations to the Nesbitts on their success at this year's Royal Winter Fair.

Ricochet Hits Wolf Hunter

COBOCONK (ENS) — Frederick John Bissett of Toronto has been transferred to Toronto General Hospital from Soldier's Memorial Hospital at Orillia for treatment of a foot injury suffered in a hunting accident in Garden Township.

Provincial Police said Bissett and a companion, Gerald Declute of Toronto, were shooting at a wolf in the Lake Dalrymple area when a bullet ricocheted from a sapling tree and hit Bissett in the left foot.

Cpl. W. H. Gould and Const. Dale Coe of Cobocok Detachment are investigating the occurrence.

Woman Hurt In Crash

MINDEN (ENS) — Provincial Police here reported several accidents during the weekend in which property damage was extensive, but only one person was injured.

Mrs. Maurina Dewey, 23, of Oshawa, suffered lacerations to her hip and minor facial cuts when the car she was driving ran off the road in the Furnace Falls area.

The accident occurred shortly after 7 a.m. Saturday on Highway 503, 20 miles southeast of here. Damage totalled $550.

A two-car crash near Maple Lake last Saturday resulted in damage estimated at $650 to cars driven by Evelyn Barjarow, 37, and James Fairfield, 45, both of Maple Lake.

Damage totalled $500 in a car-truck crash near Lochlin Saturday. Drivers were identified as Mrs. Edna Congdon, 50, of Lochlin, and T. Leslie Prentice, 57, of Minden.

Send Letter To Council

At a recent meeting of the Executive of the Businessmen's Association of Haliburton the following letter, which speaks for itself, was sent to the Dysart Municipal Council.

November 22, 1967.

The Council,
Municipality of the Township of Dysart Et Al,

Dear Sirs:

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Haliburton Businessmen's Association it was moved that a letter be written to the Council to seek information regarding the project to provide water and sewage facilities for Haliburton.

A deputation of local businessmen approached the Council over two years ago on the day that the Provincial Government announced the new arrangements for easier financing of sewer installations, in an effort to encourage remedial measures to combat water pollution.

Although the Council moved quickly to approach the Provincial authorities regarding this matter, at this late date the public is still without word as to any definite plan or timetable covering this work, although substantial sums have been spent investigating water sources etc.

Our association would respectfully request that we be apprised of the progress and present status of the project and, more particularly, as to the current timetable in respect to the firm starting and completion dates of the various phases of the undertaking.

Yours very truly,
Glenn Austin, Secretary.

$600. Damage

Damage of $600 resulted when a van went out of control on Highway 519 near Eagle Lake on Saturday night and crashed.

Police said the driver of the van was Leo Bernard Carver, 57, of Oshawa.

Minden O.P.P. Constable David Exley investigated.

Correction—

In last week's Echo we printed the Central Ontario Junior Hockey League Schedule. Under game times it was stated that Haliburton home games were Fridays at 8 p.m. and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. It should have read Friday nights 8:30 p.m. and Saturday nights at 8 p.m.

Victoria MP's Opinion Poll To Guide Speeches

LENDSEY (ENS) — A personal opinion questionnaire for the information of William C. Scott, Victoria - Haliburton M.P., has been circulated throughout the riding.

Citizens are being asked to state their approval or disapproval to 12 questions, which Mr. Scott stresses will form guidelines on which to base speeches that he might make in the House of Commons.

The questions, covering a wide range of topics, range from admission to Red China to the United Nations to lockage fees on the Trent Canal System.

Other questions include abolition of capital punishment, raising the basic deduction for income tax, lowering of the voting age to 18, lowering the voting age for servicemen only, government controls on prices, televising of Commons debates, government guidelines for wages, national educational television network, and legislation to broaden grounds for divorce, permitting circulation of birth control information and devices and permitting government - sponsored lotteries.

Letters To The Editor

November 20, 1967.

Dear Mr. Feir:

I would like to relate an inconsistency in municipal affairs! I don't know if it is because of Ignorance, Inability or Spite.

I have been up here for 22 years and in all this time I have been told that I had a vote in Municipal affairs, if I was a ratepayer and assessed for one hundred dollars. I have never refused anyone when they called on me for help, I have sat up with sick people all night without charge as I didn't think they could afford it. If I was asked to take up collections for charitable organizations I did not refuse. I have never taken advantage of the privilege to vote that I thought I had!

I never made enough money in the resort business to rest up in the winter, but had to go back to the States to work not only to live but to pay bills I wasn't able to meet. Since I didn't make my home here I did not feel I should voice my opinion.

In 1960 I got ill which laid me up for seven months, and I had to sell the Lodge, and so a couple of years later after my recovery I felt that now I would go up to Haliburton to make my home. In 1966 I was allowed to vote and we just had another election recently and I was told that I had no vote; that I had to be a Canadian citizen. That I can understand! But when a senior citizen, a born Canadian born right here in Maple Lake, was refused a vote

SUGAR AND SPICE

THIS IS NOT MY FAULT

Oh boy! I know every man leads a life of quiet desperation, according to Thoreau. I'd settle for that, if mine were even quiet.

This has been one of those days that make me wonder how the hell I can be the sweet, gentle person I am underneath.

It started at five a.m., when the Old Lady's alarm clock failed to go off. She had checked it four times between 11 p.m. and 5 a.m., switching on the light and waking me up each time. At 4:45, she settled into a sound sleep and woke with a great lurch and a scream or dismay at 5:30. She takes off for the city at 6.

Scrambling. Tea and toast. Eyes like rubbed by sandpaper. Turned on the outside light. Six inches of fresh snow, first of the year. More scrambling, for winter boots, long laid away in some no-dey-hole.

Shoved her into the snow and tottered about from 6 until 8:30, having cups of tea, shaves and anything else that was reviving. Off into the blizzard with Kim. No snow tires, naturally. Was going to put them on this week.

Taught all day. Committee meeting at 3:15. Department heads' meeting at 3:30 until 4:30. Column to write but went around to the garage to get the snow tires on. Three hundred other people had the same idea.

Home at six. Two kids (that useless Hugh's home) sitting listening to records, with the breakfast dishes in the sink. Blew up. Got the dinner organized and a few home truths off my chest.

But no rest. Out into the bleak night for another meeting at 7:30. Lasted until 10. Accomplished? Zero.

Home at last for peace, quiet, relaxation. Kim hit me the minute I got in. A proposition. She's been asked to play the organ with a rock group. It seems the in thing for groups these days is to have a girl in them. She'd also sing.

No catches whatever. Except that she'd have to buy an organ for $150 and spend about 20 hours a week practising. Nothing to it. She has a hundred in the bank from summer earnings. She could easily borrow the other $50 from the bank.

Brief lesson in economics. "What do you have for security?" She wanted to know what that was. I explained that if you have $5,000 in government bonds, the bank will lend you $50. Maybe.

The only assets she could think of were: her bicycle, leaning against a tree in the snow in the backyard, unriden for three years, a portable record player with a broken arm; a guitar that was worth $40 in its hey-day, ten years ago; and "her" piano, which I pointed out was owned by her mother.

"But do you know how much this means to me, Dad?"

"Yes, and now get to bed."

Lip stuck out about three inches, she remembered to inform me that her mother had called while I was out, and wanted to talk to me. It was 16 hours since I'd seen her.

Since my wife went back to college, my phone bill looks like the national debt of Egypt. But I called her. Fortunately, she was in a terse, taciturn mood, talked for only 20 minutes.

Went off at 11 p.m. to attack the column, while Hugh was brewing up a little snack for himself consisting of onions, cheese, beans and salami, all in the same pot.

Got a couple of hundred words of soggy prose down, and he came up and interrupted me, for a chat about his prospects. Which are nil.

Worked until two, and I might just as well have been watching television, or sleeping, because it turned out to be a lousy column, as you have just discovered.

Just to top off the day, checked the closet and found I didn't have a clean shirt for tomorrow. Said, "Gosh darn it," and hit the sack.

OBITUARY

MRS. WILLIAM ENNIS

The death of Mrs. William Ennis occurred at her home in Charlton on November 11, 1967 after a short illness.

The former Nellie Catherine Robena McDonald was born at Haliburton in 1876, and came to Charlton with her husband in 1914 and settled on a farm where she had resided ever since.

Before her marriage Mrs. Ennis taught public school in the Haliburton district, and she and her husband were among the pioneers of the North.

Left to mourn her passing are two sons, Hugh and Maxwell of Charlton. She was predeceased by her husband in 1943.

Friends paid their respects at the McDonald Funeral Home, Englehart until time for the service Monday afternoon, November 13 in Charlton United Church. Rev. J. A. Macartney officiated and interment was in the family plot in Charlton Cemetery.

Six friends of the family were pallbearers - S. Surtees, E. Chrysler, E. Pacey, C. Hueston, H. Lamb and L. Scheedy.

Among the early settlers of the community many a weary traveller found kind hospitality at the Ennis home.

The Life And Times Of Clayton Hodgson

In addition, he was expected to exercise his brother's stable of four horses. Taking each for an individual run proved time consuming so young Hodgson halved his labours by each trip driving one horse and leading another. Knowledge gained thus proved good training for later years when he drove these same horses on the Fall Fair racing circuit where he learned Central Ontario's geography by heart, driving the horse and sulky cart between Midland, Orillia, Penetanguishene, Wasaga, Lindsay, Cobocok and Kilmount, plus other centres where fairs are no longer held.

These were the years that, while the hills were set ablaze by the torch of autumn, C. W. Hodgson alternated leisurely miles between fairs, with the main event — swirling dust, pounding hooves, and sometimes the satisfaction of having a horse come home in the money.

A great adventure came in 1910 when, at the age of 14, his brother Tom took him across the American border for the first time to accompany the colts he and Charles Barrett planned to buy from Kentucky breeders (in those days livestock shipped by rail had to be attended). The stock farm sent a man to the Canadian border but Clayt was expected to baby sit the new colt, "Joe Patchem Second".

From an interview in 1958 with Jack Kinsella, here in Hodgson's own words is the story of his racing career: "My brother and I went down to the States and bought a colt by the name 'Joe Patchem Second' for $1,000. And believe me, that was a lot of money back in 1910. But what a colt he turned out to be."

As a matter of fact, he did so well that Hodgson's brother Tom (now deceased) sold him for $14,000. Later on the American Grand Circuit, following his sale to Rod McKenzie, Joe Patchem Second was beaten in only one heat. The victor was Knight on Wardo.

"That year he won over $100,000 on the Grand Circuit and took a mark of 2:03. He was a fine colt of course, and a brother of the well known 'Dan Patch'."

"Worthy Widow was my 'winningest' horse. After she set a mark of 2:07 I had her down racing in Quebec and every day I used to notice this fellow sitting on the fence, just watching."

"Finally, one day he approached me and asked if the mare was for sale. I told him yes and named a price. Then he wanted to know how fast she would go. I said about 2:10, so he says if the mare goes 2:10 that day, it's a sale."

"Well naturally she went in 2:10 and won. So help me, you never saw a fellow get down to the barns as fast as he did. He was there waiting with the money when I got back. He really wanted that mare I guess."

AREA OF DELIGHT

By DOROTHY M. REID

There was a child went forth every day
And the first object he looked upon, that object he became
And the object became part of him for the day, or a certain part of the day, Or for many years, or stretching cycles of years.

Walt Whitman

This sense of total involvement applies with special significance to the "renewable" experience of books, and, as a result, only the very finest books are suitable for the brief, impressionable years of childhood. Honest books, in which author and illustrator have brought together their richest talents to reveal the heritage of the past, an understanding of the present, and the promise of the future.

Each day I observe all manner of children dipping into these books, testing, judging, seeking the exact combination which answers their need or appeals to their interest. The element of delight, of deep satisfaction, enters into all the ramifications of this involvement. It is there in the joy of recognition as a picture book reveals familiar objects. It dances in the "first fine careless rapture" when the key to the printed words has at last been found. It is part of the satisfaction in finding the answers to questions. It is richly present in the discovery that characters in a book partake in adventures and have qualities worthy of emulation.

And it is part of the quiet surprise which overtakes the maturing reader when he realizes that others have been engaged in problems similar to his own, and that for them, also, there have been no simple solutions.

Children's books, as part of all great literature, take into account the realities of the human condition. In their earliest encounters with myths and folk tales children come face to face with the uniquely human facts of fear and hope, doubt and reassurance, love and hate, and in their solutions, discover something of the human values and judgments which are part of the pattern of life. No matter how wide the field of knowledge, no matter how diversified the interests, no matter how vast the Universe of Man's discovery, he will take his human nature wherever he goes. And part of the need of that nature, along with the urge to creativity and discovery which drives him on, is the joy of recognition and familiarity, which gives to all he does a relevance with the world which produced him. Scientists themselves have stated that it is through the development of their imaginations that today's children may be best prepared to face the complexities of the world which lies before them, a world in which the most profound scientific discovery can become obsolete over night.

And so to all parents and grandparents, teachers and librarians, authors and publishers, to all who work with, and for, children I would say, "Let us continue to give them fine books and read to them splendid stories and magnificent poetry, so that their minds and their imaginations thrive and their thoughts reach out beyond the limits of the years, and extend beyond the ends of earth, to find their answers somewhere in the stars."

It has been a great privilege and honour to have been Patroness of Young Canada's Book Week during this Centennial year. In closing, I would like to leave the children a quotation which has long been a favourite of mine: The joys of the purse may be lost or stolen; those of the heart may turn to sorrow; but the joys of the mind will be with you to the end of your journey.

Dorothy M. Reid is patroness of Young Canada's Book Week. Born in Edinburgh, Scotland. Educated in Scotland, England, Saskatchewan, and every available Library. Weyburn first home in Canada. Taught in various parts of Saskatchewan. Married and lived happily at Kennedy, until driven out by prairie winds of '30's. Took up librarianship as part time interest at Geraldton, Ontario, in 1946. Ten years later, became head of Boys' and Girls' at Fort William Public Library. Story-telling expanded to Magic Carpet radio programme, now in tenth year on C.K.P.R. With husband's encouragement, verse and professional writing gave way to production of book in 1963, Tales of Nanabozho, published by Oxford University Press, and winner of CACL Book of Year Award 1965. Mother of five, grand-mother of eight.

Some Facts About
Minden Library

As November 15 - 22 was Library Week and in keeping with this, did you know:

That there has been a Library here for over 70 years?

That this was one room over a bank at first?

That later it moved to a room over the Printing Office?

That it was destroyed by fire and made a new start?

That several officers and librarians gave their services for many years, namely Miss Ann Gainer was librarian for some 15 years, Miss A. Lew's for 16 years and Mrs. Wm. Moore for 16 years, and Mr. E. A. Rogers was secretary for many long years?

That a building given by S. W. Welch was moved to the lot donated by Mrs. Wm. Cox?

That this building was in turn replaced by the former Bank of Commerce building and moved to this same lot?

That salaries were mostly $1.00 per month?

That when Association Libraries were discontinued this became a branch of the Haliburton County System?

As finances were always a problem the fine books now available fill most of the requirements of the community.

Visit your Library, it is open 10 hours a week, with hours being Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday 3:00 - 5:00 and Tuesday and Thursday evenings 7:30 - 8:30.

IN MEMORIAM

FADER — In loving memory of Joseph Fader, who passed away November 26, 1964.

Dear Father, you are not forgotten. Though on earth you are no more, Still in memory you are with us As you always were before.

I have only your memory, dear Father,

To remember my whole life through;

But the sweetness will linger forever,

As I treasure the image of you.

—Daughter Mrs. David Davidson.

FLEMING — In loving memory of my dear Mother, Annie Fleming, who passed away one year ago today, November 23, 1966.

Softly the leaves of memory fall, Gently we gather and treasure them all;

Unseen, unheard, you are always near,

Still loved, still missed and ever dear.

—Lovingly remembered by daughter Helen and son-in-law Bernard Davidson.

FLEMING — In loving memory of our dear grandmother, Annie Fleming, who passed away November 23, 1966.

Our hearts still ache with sadness And secret tears still flow, What it meant to lose you No one will ever know.

When we are sad and lonely And everything goes wrong, We seem to hear you whisper Cheer up and carry on.

Each time we see your photo You seem to smile and say,

Don't cry, I'm only sleeping, We'll meet again some day.

—Ever remembered by granddaughters Gail, Lynnda and Dawn.

SAWYER — In loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sawyer Mother who passed away November 20, 1966, and Dad who passed away February 25, 1949.

The depths of sorrow we can not tell

Of the loss of ones we loved so well,

And while they sleep a peaceful sleep

Their memory we shall always keep.

—Lena Upton, Rena Horslev Edith Griffin, Charlie Sawyer and Dell Barry.

THICKETT — In loving memory of a very kind and dear friend George Thickett, who passed away November 5, 1963.

We do not need a special day To bring you to our mind,

For the days we do not think of you

Are very hard to find.

If all this world was ours to give, We'd give it, yes and more;

To see the face of our dear friend Come smiling through the door.

—Ever remembered by Clare and Josephine Sawyer and Family.

George Thompson Called By Death

We regret to record the passing of George Thompson, which occurred in Gravenhurst on Sunday, October 29. The deceased was a former resident of Haliburton when he was employed by the John Carew Lumber Co., and later in Eagle Lake where he was in the employ of the International Coöperation.

After leaving Eagle Lake Mr.
Thompson moved to Callander, and on retirement moved to Gravenhurst where he and Mrs.
Thompson often had the pleasure of entertaining friends from this locality at their home there.

The deceased, who at the time of his demise was in his 77th year, suffered a severe stroke on October 19 from which he never rallied, and passed away on October 29.

George Thompson was well read and always kept abreast of developments at home and abroad, and we can attest that whether engaged at his work as a mill-right, playing billiards or engaged in discussing public affairs the late Mr. Thompson could hold his own with anyone.

The funeral service was held from St. James Funeral Chapel in Toronto.

Mr. Thompson is survived by his sorrowing wife Lena, daughter Marjorie and two grandchildren.

We join with many former acquaintances in offering them our sincere sympathy at this time.

Letters to the Editor

and he resides with me, and I'm assessed to the tune of $478.00 I think surely enough that a Canadian should have a vote. It makes me think that something surely stinks!

I know that the service men have a vote and are we to believe that these 18, 19 and 20 year olds own property. If a fire threatened a town or village and the men were conscripted to fight fire, would a man be excused from fighting fires because he doesn't own property! Or would he have the privilege to refuse because he has no vote?

Mr. William Scott, M.P. — We have just answered or at least quite a few I have talked to, have answered the request you made in the mail. You might add this to mine, to talk about in the House of Commons, that if there is such a law that if a Canadian born citizen never had the fortune or opportunity to be able to buy property that he should at least have something to be thankful for to be a Canadian — a Vote!

Elizabeth Nunn.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

I want to say that in order to vote at Municipal Elections one must be a property owner or a tenant of property assessed in the amount of at least $100.00.
Soldiers do not vote, only in provincial or federal elections. The amount of time a person lives in a place does not qualify him or her to vote unless as we said they are property owners or tenants.

A tenant is a person who pays rent on the place he resides, not just a guest or boarder.
